

I want to know which events my friends are going to.

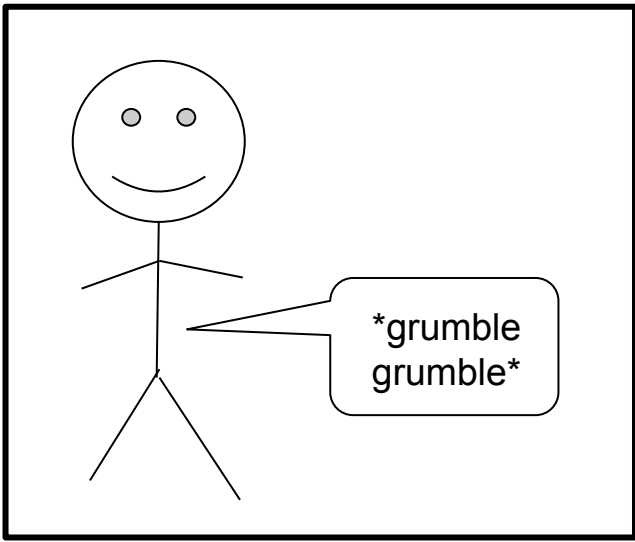

Luckily I have an app that can tell me which events there are and where my friends are.

Wow that was so fun!

I'm so glad I got this app!

"Boy I sure am hungry, but I only have half an hour to eat before my next class."

"Yippee! Chick-Fil-A has a short wait today!"

"Wow, it's ready already? Sweet!"

"The GrubHub app was quite misleading. I hope my order doesn't take too much longer than 5 minutes."

"How foolish of me! I should have used the campus crowding tracker app! I would've gone somewhere else for lunch."

"Sigh... now I only have 5 minutes left to eat my food before class. From now on I will check the crowd tracker app before going anywhere."

Persona: Jim Ratt

Scenario: visiting Strom

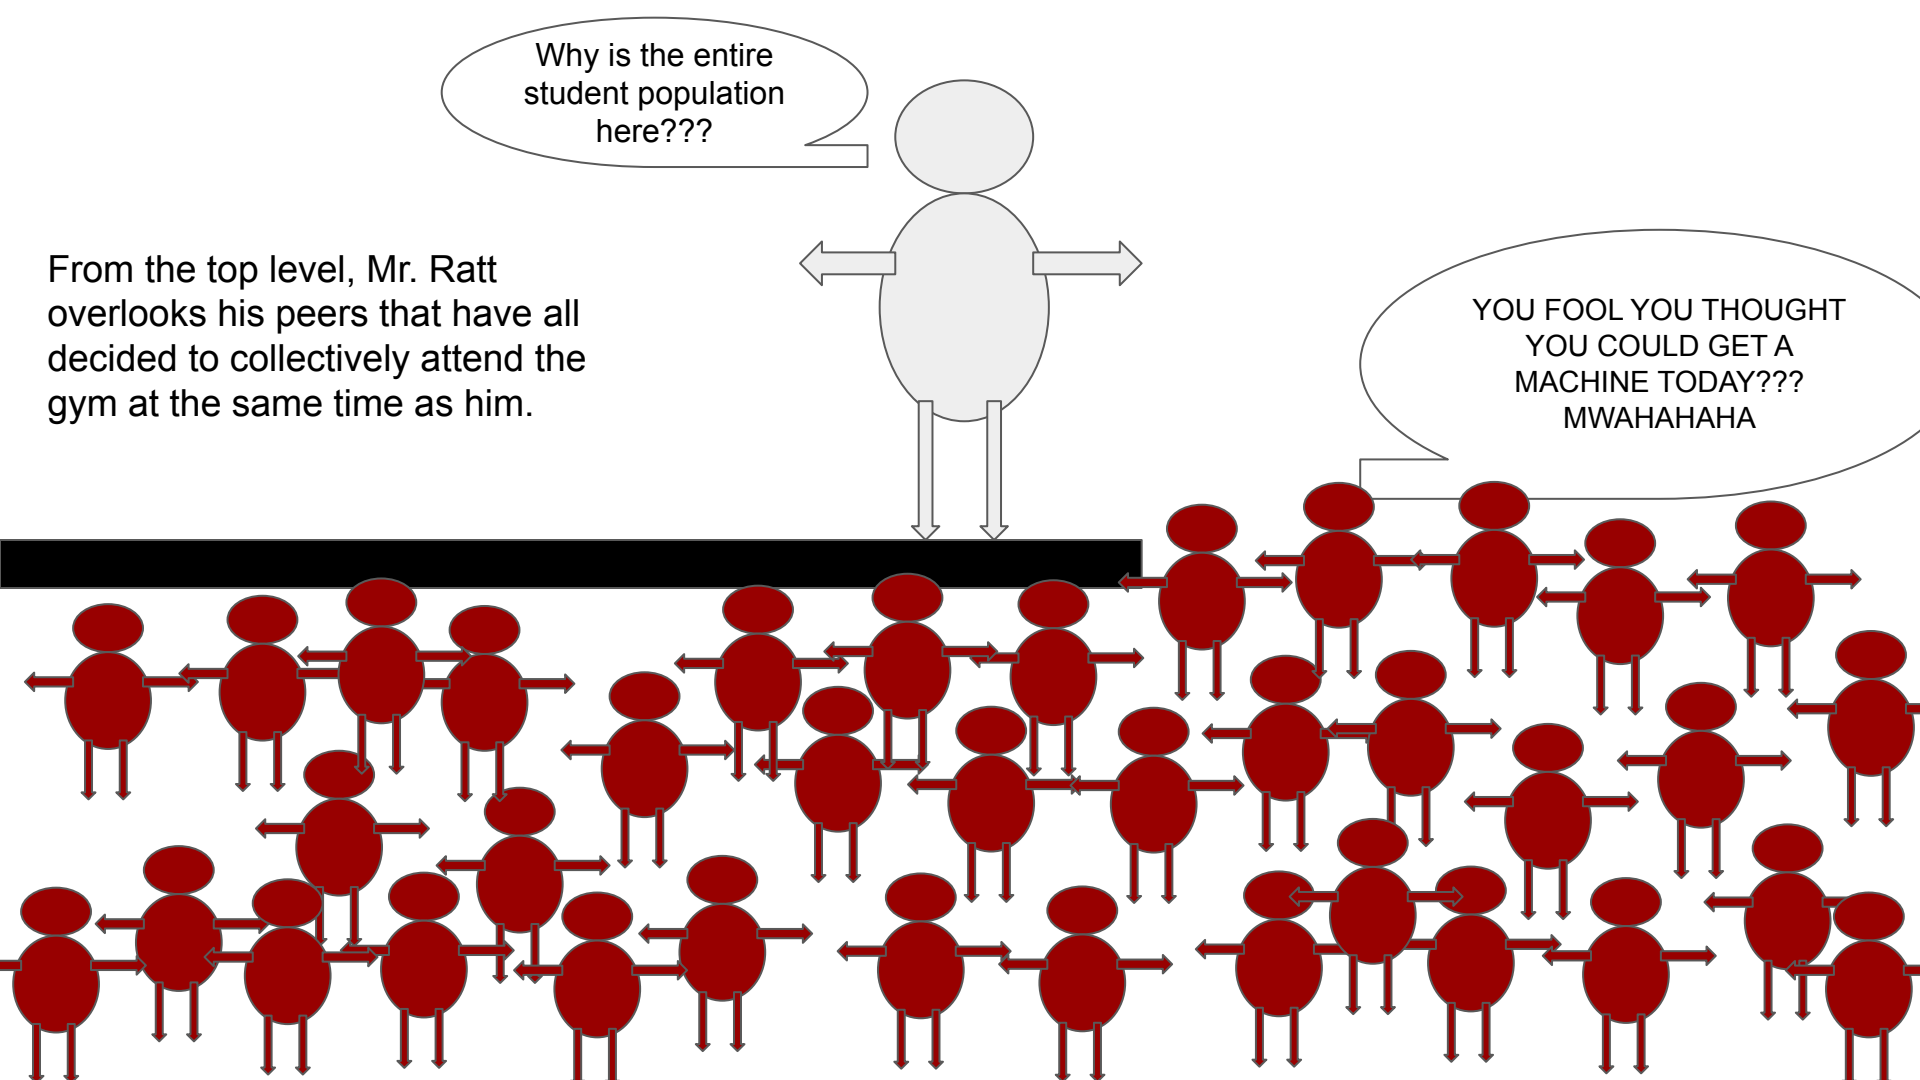

After a long day of classes, Jim returns to his dorm getting ready to go to the gym. He has been looking forward to this all day.

Why is the entire student population here???

From the top level, Mr. Ratt overlooks his peers that have all decided to collectively attend the gym at the same time as him.

YOU FOOL YOU THOUGHT
YOU COULD GET A MACHINE TODAY???
MWAHAHAHA

Finally after Jim secures a bench after waiting for an hour. He decides that something has to change because he is wasting his valuable time that could be spent studying instead.

Later

Wonder if I have time to eat before class.

Nice, only ten minutes.

I sure hope they get my order
right this time.

They couldn't get this more wrong if they tried.
